Fall Break = Fall Fun! An October Message From Faculty Senate President

While my graduate school adventures took me to Maryland and Ohio, I learned about “leafering” in Utah. Our majestic mountains light up with oranges, reds, and yellows — a sight to enjoy from the distance or, within a short drive, inside the globe of our Aspen grove forests.

A gentle reminder for you faculty members as you contemplate what you’ll be doing over the break: Give students the break they need, too. Please don’t assign additional homework over the break. Let’s all of us come back rested.

I hope you have an enjoyable and happy fall break.

UVU Educating the Most Utahns With a Record 46,809 Total Students; 41% are First in Their Family to Attend College

Utah Valley University (UVU) continues to educate the most Utahns, with a record number of 46,809 total students for the 2024 fall semester – an impressive increase of 4.83% compared to fall 2023. The university also welcomed 4,705 first-time students, an increase of 7% over last year — resulting in the largest freshman class in its history.

Sign Up for the Inquery Program

InQueery is a program provided by LGBTQ+ Intercultural Engagement offering a dynamic student panel for your classes. Panels typically focus on education, outreach, and advocacy for LGBTQ+ issues, but can be tailored to fit your needs. Our panelists will introduce themselves, share their backgrounds, and discuss their coming out stories, followed by an open Q&A to foster insightful conversations.

To comply with HB 261, the panel must align with your curriculum and include LGBTQ+ education.
