First Generation Conference

Date: Tuesday, April 9, 2024
Time: 8:30am to 2:00pm

First Generation Student
noun

A student who is the first person from their family to attend college [or if neither parent holds a bachelor's degree].
If neither of your parents has a bachelor's degree, you would still be considered a first-generation student even if your sibling went to college and you are going too.

Come learn how to navigate a variety of tools that will prepare you for an easy transition into higher education. Being a first-generation student is an honor: they're taking risks, stepping outside of their comfort zone, and doing something they've never seen anyone in their family do before. We want to celebrate your journey and clear your path for success.
