

Board of Trustees

Message from the Chair Rick Nielsen

The members of the Utah Valley University (UVU) Board of Trustees join me in welcoming you to a remarkable educational experience at one of the state's largest and most rapidly growing campuses. We know that from your very first visit to the campus, you will be immersed in the energy and excitement of a university focused on student success. Over the past 80 years, the university has transformed into a respected institution – providing some of the best opportunities for students seeking a high-quality education – all while maintaining our open-access and technical programs. This dual-mission model of education has ensured that we can fully deliver on our commitment to student success, which stands at the heart of our mission.

Today, through the leadership of our highly credentialed faculty, dedicated staff, and effective administration, UVU has never been stronger. We are climbing to new heights, expanding and growing in ways that will produce an enhanced student experience both academically and culturally.

The university's focus on excellence is producing the leaders of the future. And what tremendous student leaders we have at UVU. What always impresses me about our students is that they are actively engaged in hundreds of community service projects, generously sharing their time and knowledge. I am proud of them for fostering and modeling the goals of our institutional mission.

As trustees, we commend the institution's commitment to student success, engaged learning, inclusion, and a culture of academic rigor and professional excellence. It is these values that comprise our "institutional DNA." We recognize and greatly appreciate the support of the Utah Board of Higher Education and the commissioner's office. We thank our governor, legislators, and all who share our vision of the imperative of education and the success of UVU.

In short, UVU is fast becoming the university of choice for students who want to earn a degree where the focus is on high-quality teaching and hands-on engagement in an inclusive, welcoming environment. As trustees, we invite you to come and immerse yourself in the remarkable momentum and excitement of UVU. This is your university – a place where you will succeed.

GO WOLVERINES!

All the best,
Rick Nielsen
