HOME MEET PRESIDENT TUMINEZ IN THE NEWS SPEECHES AND EVENTS PRESIDENT'S OFFICE UVU LEADERSHIP

Utah Valley University's shared governance is achieved by university governance committees under the direction of executives. The collaboration of faculty members, staff members, staff administrators, and students assists in achieving the best outcome for the institution through consultation, deliberation, discussion, and action taken within the scope of delegated governance authority. These collaborative efforts contribute to the overall success of the university.

University Governance Committees: Committees formed by and given delegated governance authority, as defined in the committee's charter, by a university governance entity. Committees include committees, councils, boards, and associations with delegated governance authority. (UVU Policy 102)

University Advisory Boards: Advisory boards provide the University and its programs with valuable industry and community input, expertise, and guidance. Advisory boards provide consultation, deliberate issues, and provide recommendations to the responsible chartering university executive and/or their appointee to whom the advisory board is accountable. (UVU Policy 104)

Individuals wishing to establish an advisory board must complete the Advisory Board Charter Form provided by the Office of General Counsel for submission to a chartering university executive.
