Generative AI

This course is designed to provide opportunities to develop your critical thinking and communication skills. AI tools are very useful for creating high-quality deliverables with greater efficiency. However, in this class, the deliverables are not the goal. The goal is for you to go through the process to create the deliverables yourself. By doing so, you will learn and grow. For this reason, you should not use artificial intelligence tools for your assignments including the midterm and final exam. For writing support, I encourage you to use the free WSB writing lab in KB202b.

Although you should not use AI tools for your assignments, I encourage you to use artificial intelligence as a tutor for understanding concepts. If you are having trouble understanding a phrase or concept in a case, I encourage you to use AI tools to get a better understanding of the concept. For example, imagine a business case discusses a “risk-free rate”. You don’t understand what that means. Feel free to access an AI tool like ChatGPT and ask, “What is the risk-free rate?” The tool will usually give you a helpful answer to which you could ask follow-up questions.

Using Remote Testing Software

This course does not use remote testing software.

This course uses remote testing software. Remote test-takers may choose their remote testing locations. Please note, however, that the testing software used for this may conduct a brief scan of remote test-takers’ immediate surroundings, may require use of a webcam while taking an exam, may require the microphone be on while taking an exam, or may require other practices to confirm academic honesty. Test-takers therefore shall have no expectation of privacy in their test-taking location during, or immediately preceding, remote testing. If a student strongly objects to using test-taking software, the student should contact the instructor at the beginning of the semester to determine whether alternative testing arrangements are feasible. Alternatives are not guaranteed.

Academic Integrity

At Utah Valley University, faculty and students operate in an atmosphere of mutual trust. Maintaining an atmosphere of academic integrity allows for free exchange of ideas and enables all members of the community to achieve their highest potential. Our goal is to foster an intellectual atmosphere that produces scholars of integrity and imaginative thought. In all academic work, the ideas and contributions of others must be appropriately acknowledged and UVU students are expected to produce their own original academic work.

Faculty and students share the responsibility of ensuring the honesty and fairness of the intellectual environment at UVU. Students have a responsibility to promote academic integrity at the university by not participating in or facilitating others' participation in any act of academic dishonesty. As members of the academic community, students must become familiar with their rights and responsibilities. In each course, they are responsible for knowing the requirements and restrictions regarding research and writing, assessments, collaborative work, the use of study aids, the appropriateness of assistance, and other issues. Likewise, instructors are responsible to clearly state expectations and model best practices.

Further information on what constitutes academic dishonesty is detailed in UVU Policy 541: Student Code of Conduct.
