Course Requirements

Course Assignments, Assessments, and Grading Policy

Assignments

In the majority of modules, there is a corresponding assignment for each lesson. Assignments vary, so for each assignment posted, please be sure to read and follow the rubric before submitting your work. Please do not waste space on your assignments by putting my name or your name on it.

Discussions

Discussions are opportunities to explore and learn about topics together. Posts to the discussion board should add significantly to the conversation and support your point of view. Comments that do not add significantly to a discussion will receive no credit. It is okay to disagree in a discussion and do so in a respectful manner. When we open our minds and learn from others' perspectives, deep learning happens, even if we don't agree. That being said, we must still be respectful and keep our online classroom a safe place to learn.

Discussion board posts and follow-up comments (usually at least two) are due by Sunday each week. After you've made your original post, please check in a few times during the week so that you can respond appropriately to comments and others' posts. When responding to others' posts, please ensure your comments are meaningful, substantial, and contribute to the post in a thoughtful way. Unsubstantial responses (one sentence) will be deducted points. Posting responses such as "I agree", "Great post!", or "I wrote a similar thing to you. Great minds think alike!" will not receive much credit.

Assessments

There is one quiz per lesson. All quizzes have 10 questions students have 30 minutes to take each quiz. The final exam will be held during finals week. All quizzes and the final exam will be taken on Canvas.

Grading Policy

The following grading standards will be used in this class:

Grade	Percent

A	94-100%
A-	< 94-90%

However, discussion posts must be completed by their designated deadlines and the final exam cannot be taken early.

Late Work Policy:

Late assignments are accepted for up to one week after the deadline, with a 10% deduction per day (up to 7 days). After the one-week grace period, late assignments will not be accepted.

Unexpected Circumstances:

If an unforeseen situation arises, please contact me immediately so we can discuss possible solutions.

With the exception of the final exam, you are welcome to submit assignments early. In cases of prolonged absences, appropriate documentation, such as a doctor's note, may be required as verification.

Generative AI

Artificial Intelligence (AI) Expectations and Requirements

Students are permitted and encouraged to utilize AI tools and resources as part of their class assignments and studies. AI can be a valuable asset for research, content generation, data analysis, and more. However, students must use these tools responsibly and ethically.

When using AI, you should:

- Acknowledge Assistance: Clearly indicate when and how AI tools have been used in your work. Properly cite any AI-generated content or contributions as you would with any other source.
- Maintain Academic Integrity: Ensure that your use of AI does not compromise the originality of your work. Avoid using AI for tasks that should be completed independently, such as exams or assignments requiring personal reflection.
- Verify Accuracy: Be critical of the information generated by AI, as it may not always be accurate or appropriate. Always verify and cross-check information from reliable sources.

Responsible use of AI can enhance your learning experience and provide valuable insights. However, misuse or over-reliance on AI can hinder your academic development. Use these tools thoughtfully and in alignment with the college's academic integrity policies.

Using Remote Testing Software

This course does not use remote testing software.

□ This course uses remote testing software. Remote test-takers may choose their remote testing locations. Please note, however, that the testing software used for this may conduct a brief scan of remote test-takers' immediate surroundings, may require use of a webcam while taking an exam, may require the microphone be on while taking an exam, or may require other practices to confirm academic honesty. Test-takers therefore shall have no expectation of privacy in their test-taking location during, or immediately preceding, remote testing. If a student strongly objects to using test-taking software, the student should contact the instructor at the beginning of the semester to determine whether alternative testing arrangements are feasible. Alternatives are not guaranteed.

Academic Integrity

At Utah Valley University, faculty and students operate in an atmosphere of mutual trust. Maintaining an atmosphere of academic integrity allows for free exchange of ideas and enables all members of the community to achieve their highest potential. Our goal is to foster an intellectual atmosphere that produces scholars of integrity and imaginative thought. In all academic work, the ideas and contributions of others must be appropriately acknowledged and UVU students are expected to produce their own original academic work.

Faculty and students share the responsibility of ensuring the honesty and fairness of the intellectual environment at UVU. Students have a responsibility to promote academic integrity at the university by not participating in or facilitating others' participation in any act of academic dishonesty. As members of the academic community, students must become familiar with their rights and responsibilities. In each course, they are responsible for knowing the requirements and restrictions regarding research and writing, assessments, collaborative work, the use of study aids, the appropriateness of assistance, and other issues. Likewise, instructors are responsible to clearly state expectations and model best practices.

Further information on what constitutes academic dishonesty is detailed in UVU Policy 541: Student Code of Conduct.

Religious Accommodation

UVU values and acknowledges the array of worldviews, faiths, and religions represented in our student body, and as such provides supportive accommodations for students. Religious belief or conscience broadly includes religious, non-religious, theistic, or non-theistic moral or ethical beliefs as well as participation in religious holidays, observances, or activities. Accommodations may include scheduling or due-date modifications or make-up assignments for missed class work.

To seek a religious accommodation, a student must provide written notice to the instructor and the Director of Accessibility Services at accessibilityservices@uvu.edu. If the accommodation relates to a scheduling conflict, the notice should include the date, time, and brief description of the difficulty posed by the conflict. Such requests should be made as soon as the student is aware of the prospective scheduling conflict.

While religious expression is welcome throughout campus, UVU also has a specially dedicated space for meditation, prayer, reflection, or other forms of religious expression.
