

Student Agreement to Publish Course Work under Creative Commons License

This Student Agreement to Publish Course Work under Creative Commons License (“Agreement”) is for the student identified below (“Student”) who wishes to mark their Utah Valley University course work as an open educational resource by assigning it a license under the Creative Commons Attribution-Non Commercial-Share Alike 4.0 International License (“CC License”).

1. Subject to any provisions in UVU Intellectual Property Policy #136 to the contrary, Student owns the copyright in their course work and has full discretion about whether or not to share their work publicly.
2. Student confirms they are the sole author of the work subject to this Agreement.
3. Student understands that marking their work with the CC License is voluntary and that this decision will not have any impact on the Student’s grade in the related course.
4. While this work will be published for the purpose of increasing open educational resources available to all, Student acknowledges that the CC License may permit users to use Student’s work for non-educational purposes.
5. Student hereby releases their work under the terms of the CC License. Student is not losing their copyright as an author/creator. However, Student is advised of the implications of granting others the permission to freely reuse, revise, remix, retain, and redistribute their work. Student may refer to the Creative Commons website for more information on the CC License <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc/4.0/legalcode>. There are also many helpful videos available online.
6. Completed forms are to be submitted to Student’s course instructor.

Student agrees to the terms of this Agreement and confirms that Student is at least 18 years of age. In the event Student is under the age of 18, this Agreement is hereby signed by the parent, guardian, or other individual legally authorized to give consent on behalf of the minor.
