

Matthew Joseph is a senior at UVU majoring in of Political Science with an emphasis in International Relations and a Minor in Peace and Justice Studies. Matthew has had the opportunity to study different political systems and ideologies while at UVU, focusing on Eurasian governments and societies, as well as engage in hand on practical use of his knowledge with various international internship opportunities. Matthew served as the first intern from UVU to the Andrei Sakharov Foundation, working in the foundations office in Moscow during the summer of 2010. Matthew has authored and co-authored several articles.