

Megan Davis

Megan Davis is a Utah girl at heart. She was born and raised in a small rural Utah town known as Nephi, UT. While growing up in Utah, she has gained a love for the mountains and the beautiful, National and State parks surrounding her. Right in her backyard, Megan grew up next to Juab County's beloved Mt. Nebo. She attended Juab High School for 4 years and got as involved as she could. While living there, some of her favorite past times was spending time up in the mountains up in the Nebo Loop Canyon.

Megan is currently a Political Science major at Utah Valley University (UVU) with a minor in Music and Constitutional Studies. While attending UVU, she came across the Utah International Mountain Forum (UIMF), a coalition of student clubs at UVU. She found it very intriguing and with the assumption of it being a good opportunity, she joined. Ever since joining, she has had so many opportunities and experiences through the engaged learning model at UVU. Through UIMF and UVU, she has been able to gain professional and business skills on a local and international level.

As a UIMF member, Megan also serves as the UNA-USA liaison and the Director of Public Relations for the club.
