Thomas Mogensen

Born in San Jose, California, and raised in Utah and Switzerland, Thomas Mogensen has grown up with a love of languages and cultures. Thomas has a family of 6, with 2 brothers and 1 sister, a Swiss-Danish father and a Mexican American mother. The mountain environment which he was raised in has given him a plethora of hobbies, such as sport climbing and skiing. During his mission for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, Thomas was given opportunities to act as a spokesperson for his church and participated in many inter-faith discussions and meetings that grew his love for diplomacy. This love is why he is studying Political Science at UVU with an emphasis on global politics.