Verbs are words that express action or state of being. There are three types of verbs: action verbs, linking verbs, and helping verbs.

Action Verbs
Action verbs are words that express action (give, eat, walk, etc.) or possession (have, own, etc.). Action verbs can be either transitive or intransitive.

Transitive Verbs
A transitive verb always has a noun that receives the action of the verb, called the direct object.

EXAMPLE: Laurissa raises her hand.
The verb is raises. Her hand is the object receiving the verb’s action. Therefore, raises is a transitive verb.

Transitive verbs sometimes have indirect objects, which name the object to whom or for whom the action was done.

EXAMPLE: Abdus gave Becky the pencil.
The verb is gave. The direct object is the pencil. (What did he give? The pencil.) The indirect object is Becky. (To whom did he give it? To Becky.)

Intransitive Verbs
An intransitive verb never has a direct or indirect object. Although an intransitive verb may be followed by an adverb or adverbial phrase, there is no object to receive its action.

EXAMPLE: Laurissa rises slowly from her seat.
The verb is rises. The phrase, slowly from her seat, modifies the verb, but no object receives the action.

Transitive or Intransitive?
To determine whether a verb is transitive or intransitive, follow these two steps:

1. Find the verb in the sentence.
   EXAMPLE 1: Dustin will lay down his book. What is the action? will lay
   EXAMPLE 2: His book will lie there all day. What is the action? will lie

2. Ask yourself, “What is receiving the action of the verb?” If there is a noun receiving the action of the verb, then the verb is transitive. If there is no direct object to receive the action, and if the verb does not make sense with a direct object, then it is intransitive.

   EXAMPLE 1: Dustin will lay down his book. Dustin will lay down what? his book. Since the verb can take a direct object, it is transitive.

   EXAMPLE 2: His book will lie there all day. His book will lie what? nothing. It does not make sense to “lie something.” Since the verb has no direct object, it is intransitive.

Linking Verbs

A linking verb connects the subject of a sentence to a noun or adjective that renames or describes the subject. This noun or adjective is called the subject complement.

Example: Jason became a business major.

The verb, became, links the subject, Jason, to its complement, a business major.

Lisa is in love with Jason.

The most common linking verb is the verb to be in all of its forms (am, are, is, was, were, etc.). This verb may also be used as a helping verb (see next section). To become and to seem are always linking verbs.

Other verbs may be linking verbs in some cases and action verbs in others:

- to appear
- to feel
- to look
- to remain
- to stay
- to taste
- to continue
- to grow
- to prove
- to sound
- to smell
- to turn

Linking: Libby appeared happy. (Appeared links Libby to the subject complement, happy.)

Action: Deon suddenly appeared. (Here, appeared is an intransitive action verb.)

Helping Verbs

Helping verbs are used before action or linking verbs to convey additional information regarding aspects of possibility (can, could, etc.) or time (was, did, has, etc.). The main verb with its accompanying helping verb is called a verb phrase.

Examples: Teju is (helping verb) going (main verb) to Florida.

The trip might (helping verb) be (main verb) dangerous.

The following words, called modals, always function as helping verbs:

- can
- may
- must
- shall
- will
- could
- might
- ought to
- should
- would

Examples: Tanya could learn to fly helicopters. (Could helps the main verb, learn.)

Janine will drive to Idaho tomorrow. (Will helps the main verb, drive.)

In addition, the following forms of the verbs to be, to do, and to have sometimes serve as helping verbs.

(Note: In other cases, they may serve as action or linking verbs.)

- am, be, being, do, had, have, was
- are, been, did, does, has, is, were

Helping: Jana is moving to a new house.

Linking: Jana is ready to go.

Helping: Dustin did eat his vegetables!

Action: Dustin did his homework last night.
